Guidance Notes on the Use of the Standard Request for Application for Selection of Individual Junior Consultants (National)

These guidance notes have been prepared by the CPTU to assist a Client in the preparation, using the Standard Request for Application (SRFA), for procurement of Individual Junior Consultants (National). The Client should also refer to the Public Procurement Act 2006 (Act No 24 of 2006), and the Public Procurement Rules 2008, issued to supplement the Act available on CPTU's website: www.cptu.gov.bd/. All concerned are advised to refer to the aforementioned Act and Rules while participating in any selection process of Junior Consultants.

Individual Junior Consultants shall be employed in accordance with Section 38 of the Public Procurement Act 2006 and Rule 112 & Rule 104(d) of the Public Procurement Rule 2008 for assignments for which the qualifications and experience of the individual are the overriding requirements and no team of staff and no additional professional support are required.

This document shall be used when a Procuring Entity (the Client) wishes to select an Individual Junior Consultant (National) for assignments for which the qualifications and experience of the individual are the overriding requirement, for which remuneration is being determined on the basis of the time actually spent by the Junior Consultant in carrying out the services.

Time-based Contracts are recommended when the Scope of the Services cannot be established with sufficient precision, or the duration and quantity of Services depends on variables that are beyond the control of the Junior Consultant, or the output required of the Junior Consultants is difficult to assess.

Junior Consultant's remuneration is based on (i) agreed unit rates for the Junior Consultant multiplied by the actual time spent by him/her in executing the assignment, and (ii) reimbursable expenses using actual expenses and/or agreed unit prices. This type of Contract requires the Client to closely supervise Junior Consultants and to be involved in the daily execution of the assignment.

SRFA (PS4) has been designed to suit the particular needs of procurement within Bangladesh, and has four (4) Sections, of which Section 1: Information to the Applicants and the Contract Agreement in Section 4 must not be altered or modified under any circumstances.

The Client addresses its specific needs through the Section 2: Terms of Reference (TOR). The way in which an Applicant expresses his/her interest is by completion and submission of the Application Forms in Section 3.

Guidance notes in brackets and italics are provided for both the Client and the Applicants and as such the Client should carefully decide what notes need to remain and what other guidance notes might be required to assist the Applicant in preparing its Application submission; so as to minimize the inept Selection process.

SRFA (PS4), when properly completed will provide all the information that an Individual Junior Consultant (National) needs in order to prepare and submit an Application. This should provide a sound basis on which the Client can fairly, transparently and accurately carry out an evaluation process on the application submitted by the Individual Junior Consultant.

SRFA(PS4) duly tailored may also be used for the purpose of Single Source Selection Method

The following briefly describes the Section of SRFA (PS4) and how a Client should use these when preparing a particular request for Applications.

ANNEX A: Description of the Services

Background of the project:

The three districts of south-eastern Bangladesh; Rangamati, Bandarban and Khagrachhari are collectively known as the Chittagong Hill Tracts. It covers an area of 13295 sq km. 74% of the land is hilly, 6% is plain land and 20% is bumpy land. People of different communities including Chakma, Marma, Thanchangya, Murang, Chak, Bawm, Lusai, Khumi, Tripura, Kheyang, Pangkhua, Asam, Rakhaine and Bengali live here. Most of the people depend mainly on agriculture for their livelihood. Remote areas, lack of irrigation water, under-developed technologies could not take the agriculture of this area to the peak of development. Therefore, the people of this area are still lagging behind in education and socio-economic development.

All kinds of crops can't be cultivated in hilly areas of CHT. Crop yields low due to underdeveloped management. Sugarcane is a new cash crop in the Chittagong Hill Tracts. Considering the overall condition of agriculture in the Chittagong Hill Tracts, sugarcane cultivation in this region is a very promising and profitable crop. Sugarcane can survive in adverse weather conditions like drought, excessive rains, dense fog, cyclone and windy weather etc. while other crops like rice, vegetables and many other cannot survive. By cultivating sugarcane with intercropping, two to three additional crops can be obtained from the same land every year. Farmers can earn cash by selling the surplus in the market after meeting their family needs. Vegetables, oilseeds, spices and pulses can be grown as intercrops to meet partial household needs. Even after the sugarcane has reached its' harvesting time, the farmer can keep the crop in the field for a long time and sell it slowly which is not possible for other crops.

There is a huge demand for gur (molasses) in the Chittagong Hill Tracts. Most of these needs are met from other areas of the country. Gur produced in those areas are adulterated, toxic due to use of toxic and poisonous chemical like hydrose. So, this type of adulterated and unhygienic gur is most harmful to public health. By producing healthy sugarcane gur in the Chittagong Hill Tracts, it is possible to meet the demand for gur in this area and supply surplus gur to other parts of the country. This will meet the nutritional needs of the people in the region and improve the quality of life.

But in the Chittagong Hill Tracts, there is no necessary extension activity to increase the cultivation of sugarcane and allied crops. The production technology of these crops, especially the developed sugarcane seed production and distribution system among the farmers is yet to be developed. Though the yield of sugarcane in the CHT is almost three times more than yield in plain areas, although the opportunity increasing productivity of sugarcane in this region is not being utilized due to inadequacy of extension activities and lack of application of technology. Farmers also have very limited knowledge about advanced technology of gur production and gur conservation technology. Bangladesh Sugarcrop Research Institute (BSRI) is working on a very limited scale in the Chittagong Hill Tracts to expand advanced technology for sugarcane and gur production. To gear up this initiative this project has been jointly implementing by Chittagong Hill Tracts Development Board (CHTDB) & BSRI to improve the socio-economic condition of the farmers and increase the production of high quality gur by cultivating sugarcane and intercropping through advanced technology.

Tobacco is widely cultivated in the Chittagong Hill Tracts. Destructive tobacco aggression is on the rise. Although the profit from tobacco cultivation is less than that of sugarcane, the tobacco companies are attracting the poor farmers of the region by distributing some cash and input materials to them. Tobacco cultivation is detrimental to the environment, forests and public health in addition to destroying soil fertility. Valuable forest resources (wood in the Chittagong Hill Tracts are being destroyed for tobacco curing. Curing tobacco leaves produced per acre requires at least 5 MT of fuel wood. The toxic gas emitted by tobacco curing causes serious damage to human life and the environment. Sugarcane is the only crop in the highlands that can successfully replace tobacco cultivation.

According to an Economic Survey, in the Chittagong Hill Tracts, where the per capita income of tobacco is tk. 2,27,170/ha, From this information it is clear that sugarcane cultivation is per capita income tk. 4,23,530/ha, sugarcane is more profitable than tobacco cultivation. In addition, this income can be further increased by cultivating companion crops. Lack of improved varieties and technical knowledge, scarcity of improved sugarcane varieties and poor market channel are the main reasons for low sugarcane cultivation in the area. Proper training through research & demonstration, supply of quality sugarcane seeds and strengthening of sugarcane processing and marketing channel can greatly increase sugarcane cultivation in the area.

With a view to achieving this goal, under the supervision of Bangladesh Sugarcrop Research Institute (BSRI) July, 2006 AD. To be June, 2020 AD. A project titled 'Pilot Project for Extension of Sugarcane Cultivation in CHT' is being implemented in this area on a limited scale. The project has already gained wide acceptance in the CHT. Commercial sugarcane cultivation has increased in the Chittagong Hill Tracts. According to the data obtained from the study, in the financial year 2005-2006, sugarcane was cultivated in a total area of 1075 (approximately) hectares in Rangamati, Bandarban and Khagrachari of 3 districts in the Chittagong Hill Tracts. As a result of implementation of 'pilot project for extension of sugarcane cultivation in Chittagong Hill Tracts', the amount of sugarcane cultivation now stands at 2060 hectares (approximately). In the last few years, due to relentless efforts, it has been possible to reach more productive sugarcane varieties like BSRI Akh-41 (Amrit), BSRI Akh-42 (Rangbilash), China, Vietnam, VMC 86-550, Bonpara Gendari, Madhumala, Ranangaon, Co 208 etc. at the farmer level. People from all walks of life including farmers and women of the three hill districts have found a way to make a living by cultivating sugarcane with advanced technology. However, to date it has not been possible to set up any permanent office of BSRI in the three hill districts. As a result, due to the distance, it is not always possible to supply sugarcane seeds on demand from Bangladesh Sugarcrop Research Institute (BSRI) head office, Ishwardi, Pabna to Chittagong Hill Tracts. In addition to communication with the farmers, in many cases it becomes impossible to complete all the activities successfully on time. That is why it is very important to set up three sub-station in the three hill districts in order to continue providing effective services to the farmers of the area.

The Government has taken agriculture as the highest priority activity. As a result, various steps have been taken to intensify the management of agricultural activities in the three hill districts as in other parts of the country. It is hoped that in the future the scope of sugarcane and other sugarcrop cultivation in the Chittagong Hill Tracts will be further expanded. If the government can provide training to the farmers in the Chittagong Hill Tracts, supply of quality sugarcane seeds, marketing channel and take up agricultural development projects in this sector, rapid success can be achieved by increasing the interest of farmers in the Chittagong Hill Tracts. The demand for gur can be met by increasing gur production in this area. If gur production increases, the amount of sugar imported in the country will decrease. This will save valuable foreign exchange. Massive employment will be created for the people of Chittagong Hill Tracts. By providing training to farmers and field officers on modern sugarcane with intercrops cultivation technology, it will be possible to produce more sugarcane from the same land through rapid spread of the technology. The development of improved sugarcane varieties, developed by the Chittagong Hill Tracts Development Board and Bangladesh Sugarcrop Research Institute, will help the farmers in the Chittagong Hill Tracts economically benefit poverty alleviation and nutritional development by setting up demonstration plots. Through sugarcane cultivation, healthy and high quality gur can be made from sugarcane produced in Chittagong Hill Tracts, employment and increase of income of people in Chittagong Hill Tracts can be ensured through gur conservation and marketing. The project proposed by the Chittagong Hill Tracts Development Board and Bangladesh Sugarcrop Research Institute is very important for improving the socio-economic condition of the people at three hill districts, reclamation of fallow land, nutritional development and alternative cash crops for tobacco.

Poverty situation:

According to ICIMOD, 2015, the poverty rate in Bangladesh is 17.60% out of 31.50%, while the poverty rate in Chittagong Hill Tracts is 51.60% out of which extreme poverty is 20.60%. Among the three districts in Chittagong Hill Tracts, Khagrachari district has poverty rate of 50.60% and extreme poverty of 22.00%, Rangamati district has poverty rate of 47.60% and extreme poverty of 21.60% and Bandarban district has poverty rate of 56.00% and extreme poverty of 18.10%. The poverty rate among the Bengali peoples living in this area is relatively low. But the communities of small ethnic groups living in remote hills are poorer due to natural disasters, underdeveloped communication systems and lack of awareness. The project is directly related to all the inhabitants of CHT including the Bengali & all other ethnic communities. Successful implementation of the project will increase the annual income of the beneficiaries by 10% and will directly and indirectly lead to overall socio-economic development.

Objectives:

6. To extension sugarcane cultivation in Chittagong Hill Tracts as an alternative to harmful tobacco cultivation and to meet nutritional needs by high yielding developed chewing and gur varieties sugarcane and suitable for gur production.
7. To create Entrepreneurs through small and cottage industries (eg: making hygienic sugarcane gur, juice, syrup, preserving, packaging and marketing).
